IMPORTANT NOTES – before completing the Limited Liability Partnership Share Protection Trust, please read the following notes.

1. This documentation has been produced for consideration by you and your legal advisers. The legal and tax effects of the Trust will depend on your individual circumstances and Legal & General (as defined in clause 11.3 of Part B of the Trust) and its advisers accept no responsibility for ensuring that the Trust meets your requirements.
2. Ensure that you fully understand the terms of the Trust and how it works. See the Limited Liability Partnership technical guide for further details. If you are in any doubt about the terms, it is your responsibility to seek legal or tax advice as appropriate. Failure to understand the terms of the Trust may affect its suitability and effectiveness.
3. You should also ensure you have read and understood all the literature relating to your chosen policy for this Trust.
4. This Trust is designed for use with Legal & General's protection life insurance policies for limited liability partnership protection arrangements. It is not designed to be used for partnership protection, director share protection, key person protection, relevant life plans or family protection. Please contact Legal & General for other trust templates we offer.
5. This Trust can be used only with applications for new single life Legal & General protection policies. It cannot be used with an existing policy.
6. The settlor is the person who is creating the Trust. The trustees will be the legal owners of the policy and their authority is required for any dealings with the policy. It is the trustees who would make a claim for any policy proceeds.
7. It is generally a good idea to have at least two trustees at any time. Care should be taken when choosing trustees. The people appointed must be over 18 years of age and of sound mind. The trustees should be people who the settlor believes will act in the best interests of the beneficiaries. The trustees have wide powers to determine the shares in which the policy proceeds are distributed to the beneficiaries. Although in practice, the trustees would normally distribute proceeds to enable the members to exercise their options or comply with obligations under a cross option agreement or alternative agreement, note that the trustees are not compelled to distribute proceeds for this purpose. It is also a good idea for them to be resident in the United Kingdom for tax reasons. Solicitors and accountants can act as trustees but they will charge for their services.
8. For the other members to benefit from this Trust they must also effect and maintain similar policies on similar trusts. We also suggest all the relevant members enter into a suitable cross option agreement or other arrangement. Legal & General offer a draft cross option agreement for consideration by the members and their legal advisers.
9. For information on tax implications relating to this Trust see the Limited Liability Partnership technical guide.
10. By signing this deed, and if required by Legal & General, the trustees agree to take all reasonable steps to obtain for Legal & General evidence of identification for any of the beneficiaries of the Trust.
11. This document reflects Legal & General's understanding of the law as of 1 January 2020. Legal & General and its advisers cannot accept any responsibility for loss, damage or other claim that may arise from the use of this Trust or the way in which you complete it. We therefore strongly recommend that you consult your own legal or tax adviser before proceeding.
12. Use CAPITALS and black or blue ink throughout. If you make a mistake while completing the Trust, please correct the error by crossing out (do not use correction fluid) and the settlor and the trustees should initial the change.
13. Completed Trust deeds should be given to your financial adviser at the same time as applying for the policy. If the policy is not placed in Trust at outset, you should seek your own legal and tax advice as our Trust document cannot be used in these circumstances.
14. If the trust, trustees or settlor/donors are resident for tax purposes anywhere other than the UK you must also complete the Trust/Entity Self-Certification Declaration form and send this to us together with your completed deed.
15. You may wish to refer to HMRC in order to decide whether you are required to register on the online Trusts Registration Service.
