Rental Protection Plan

A rented property is more than just a roof over your head

Have you thought how you'd cover the cost of your rent if you were ill or injured and unable to work?

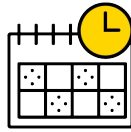

Legal & General's Rental Protection Plan can help provide some financial security for you or your family. In the event of a valid claim, you could use a monthly benefit to help pay the rent.

Read on to find out how our rental protection could benefit you

Why it's important to consider protection

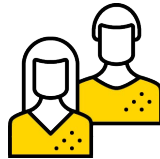

If you have a 12-month lease, you're committed to pay rent for that time.

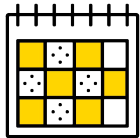

Employers only have to pay you statutory sick pay for up to 28 weeks.

Going into arrears could negatively affect your chance of getting a new tenancy agreement or mortgage in the future.

"It won't happen to me"
Lots of people rely on this idea. But the average age of our income protection claimant was 41.

On average, a UK employee has enough savings to last just 19 days if their income stopped.

£1,294 is the average rent per calendar month across the UK.

Choose the cover that suits you

Everyone has different needs. That's why Legal & General offer three different product choices within the plan. Your adviser can help you choose the protection that fits you best.

Rental Income Protection Benefit

This cover is designed to provide a regular monthly benefit if you can't work due to incapacity caused by illness or injury, resulting in loss of earnings, during the length of the plan.

- The monthly benefit could be used to help cover rent or living expenses such as utilities, medical bills, childcare, and any other monthly outgoings.
- You can increase the benefit amount if your rent increases. T&Cs apply.
- Stepped Benefit offers a choice of two deferred periods and two levels of cover. This may help if income from your employer reduces over time.
- You can keep premiums down with our Low Cost Option. The maximum claim duration can be either 12 or 24 months, this needs to be chosen at outset. Multiple claims can be made.
- Income Guarantee could help protect your chosen monthly benefit.
- Hospitalisation Benefit is also included. This provides cover if you have to stay in hospital for more than 7 consecutive nights during your deferred period. You're covered for a maximum of £150 per night.

Limitations and exclusions apply. For example, Rental Income Protection Benefit does not include unemployment cover.

Tax laws may change which could affect the monthly benefit our plan pays out. The monthly benefit may affect your claim to some means tested state benefits. Your entitlement to employment related non-means tested state benefits (such as contributory Employment and Support Allowance) shouldn't be affected. However, state benefit rules may change.
