1.2 These Conditions

These Conditions are governed by English law and govern your Application and the Account once it is opened. If there are any differences between the Regulations and the Conditions, the Regulations will apply. These Conditions apply to the Account covered by these Conditions.

These Conditions will not be relevant to any other investments you have with us.

Your investment in Funds will be governed by further terms and conditions. Further information on the Funds available for investment and the relevant risk warnings will be provided to you before you make an investment. You must read the relevant KIID before making an investment.

Your instructions will be executed in accordance with our Order Execution Policy, a summary of which is provided to you as part of the Application. By giving instructions to us in respect of Funds you agree to that Policy. The latest version of the summary of our Order Execution Policy and execution quality data is available on request.

There may be instances such as post-trade allocations where your holdings in Investments are rounded down to two or more decimal places. Any rounding may result in a small, unrecoverable loss to your holding (always less than 0.01 of a unit of the relevant Investment). The Order Execution Policy is available on request.

This service is provided on a "non-advised" basis and to the extent that you need any advice, we recommend that you speak with an appropriately qualified and authorised adviser.

1.3 Tax

You will lose some of the tax benefits of the ISA if you make a withdrawal from your ISA. If the amount withdrawn relates to a Payment made by you in the same tax year, that amount will still count towards your annual ISA allowance for that tax year. You can subscribe to more than one stocks and shares ISA in a single tax year, as long as you don't exceed the overall annual allowance.

Any tax payable on the Account will depend on the personal circumstances of the Account Holder and may be subject to change in the future.

Disclosure of tax

Tax regulations require us to collect certain information about each investor's tax arrangements. If the Account Holder is a UK resident you authorise us to disclose all relevant information about the Account Holder and the Account to HMRC in accordance with applicable law.

ISA tax reclaims

You authorise us to apply to HMRC on your behalf to make all relevant claims for the repayment of tax in respect of Funds held in your Account. You authorise us to provide HMRC with all relevant information and documentation about you and the Account as may be required for this purpose.

Part 2

Account Opening

2.1 Opening an Account with us

You can apply to open an Account with us online. Our website will provide a link which enables you to access the Conditions and other information needed to make your Application and open an Account. You must also satisfy our eligibility requirements. For these purposes, you must be an individual aged 18 years or over and a resident in the UK or a Crown Servant (for example a diplomat or overseas civil servant) or their spouse or Civil Partner if you do not live in the UK.

- To complete an application for an Account you must provide us with your: National Insurance Number; and
- Nominated Bank Account.

If you are paying by Salary Deduction, the agreement to set up Salary Deductions is between you and your Employer. To facilitate your instructions we will share the relevant parts of your Application and any future instructions from you with your Employer and you authorise us to do this. Your Account may be restricted or closed in accordance with these Conditions if you cease to satisfy the relevant eligibility criteria.

How to open an Account

You must ensure that the information provided in the Application is accurate and valid. We'll let you know if you are successful. Submitting an Application does not guarantee that you'll be able to open an Account with us. If you change your mind, you'll have 14 days to cancel the Application.

2.2 Cancelling your Application

When you buy a Legal & General ISA you've got up to 14 days from the date your ISA is opened to cancel. You can cancel your ISA by contacting us via the secure messaging in My Account. We'll then sell any investments purchased in your ISA and return the value of your account to your Nominated Bank Account. If the value of any investments purchased has fallen, you may receive back less than your original payment.

Cancellation payments for debit card or direct debit investments will be returned to the original source of Payment unless exceptional circumstances mean this is not possible. Cancellation payments for Salary Deduction will be sent to the nominated bank account details you provided as part of your account set up.

If you are paying by salary deduction and your Employer's payment is not honoured, your investment will not be placed, or will be cancelled, and you will need to direct any queries to your Employer.

We'll reject your Application if we can't verify the information you provided or if you don't meet our eligibility requirements.

We'll reject your application if you already hold an ISA with us or another Legal & General Group Company and have contributed to it in the current tax year.

Provided you cancel your Legal & General ISA Application within 14 days, any Payments made prior to your Account being cancelled will not count towards your annual ISA limit.

Cancellation Payments will be made once the monies in respect of the Investment have been cleared. Please note that banks and building societies may take up to 21 business days to fully honour any payment.

Cancellation of Direct Debits

Arrangements for Regular Payments paid by direct debit may be cancelled at any time in accordance with the direct debit guarantee (the 'Guarantee'):

This guarantee is offered by all banks and building societies that accept instructions to pay direct debits.

If you request Legal & General to collect a payment, confirmation of the amount and date will be given to you at the time of the request.

If there are any changes to the amount, date or frequency of your direct debit, Legal & General will notify you 10 working days in advance of your account being debited or as otherwise agreed.

If an error is made in the payment of your direct debit by Legal & General or your bank or building society, you're entitled to a full and immediate refund of the amount paid from your bank or building society.

If you receive a refund you're not entitled to, you must pay it back when we ask you to.

You can cancel a direct debit at any time by simply contacting your bank or building society. Written confirmation may be required. Please also notify us.

Cancellation of a Transfer In

Where you have Transferred In from another provider, you may change your mind and cancel it within 14 days of us receiving the transfer. We will return the value we receive to the transferring ISA provider. If they will not accept the return or will only accept on terms different from those applicable prior to the Transfer In we will contact you to request further instructions. If you want to transfer to another provider, you will need to contact them and make arrangements for them to request the transfer.

We reserve the rights to take reasonable administration charges from your ISA, as the case may be, until such time as we can make the transfer to another provider. The transfer value may be less than was paid in due to these charges. If your investments have fallen in value, you will not get back the full amount transferred.

Your investments will need to be sold so the transfer can be returned to your previous or a new provider. You will not benefit from any rise in the markets while the transfer is pending.

2.3 Client classification

We are required to classify you for the purposes of the FCA Rules. We will classify you as a "Retail Client" (as defined in the FCA Rules) unless we notify you otherwise. This means that you get the highest level of protection under the FCA Rules. You may request a different client classification, however we are not obliged to agree to reclassify you. If you are classified differently you will lose protections given to Retail Clients under the FCA Rules. We will provide further information on request.

Part 3

How the Account is administered and how your money is invested

3.1 The ownership of Units in your Account

The legal title (i.e. the document or record which indicates ownership) of the Units in your Account will be registered in the name of the Nominee. You'll be, and will remain, the beneficial owner of the Units in your Account at all times. This means that only you have the right to benefit from the Units. You must not charge, pledge or otherwise use the Units held in your Account as security for any loan or other obligation. We will hold any documents evidencing the legal ownership of your Units.

As the beneficial owner of the Units in your Account, you, the Account Holder will be entitled to attend meetings for the Fund's Unit holders and exercise voting rights at such meetings, or instruct us to do so on your behalf.

Upon request, we can also provide the annual reports and accounts (for the Funds) and any other information issued to Unit holders.

3.2 Payments into your Account via your Employer

Salary Deductions are collected on a frequency as determined by your Employer, in accordance with their regular payroll processing dates and your instructions.

It is your Employer's responsibility to reduce the deduction and payment of your contribution to zero for any payroll period, where:

1. the calculated collective value of your contributions is below the product lump sum minimum. The minimum payments are £100 lump sum initial payment or additional payments of £1, or £20 a month regular payment;

2. your net salary is less than your contribution instruction. Where you have requested multiple contributions for any payroll period, your Employer will process deductions from your net salary giving priority to regular contributions before single lump sum contributions.

Your Employer will deduct payments from your net salary until you instruct us to tell your Employer to stop or you leave employment with that Employer.

Where you request changes to your payment instruction, we will pass these on to your employer, and we are dependent upon your Employer to apply such a change to their payroll cycle and therefore, the changes may take more than a payment cycle to be implemented.

You cannot provide payment instructions or changes to these instructions directly to your Employer.

3.3 If you invest directly

You can make Single Lump Sum Payments or Regular Payments into your Account.

Single Lump Sum Payments

Single Lump Sum Payments can be made via Debit Card and will be invested in accordance with clause 3.4.

Regular Payments

Regular Payments can be paid monthly

via direct debit. We'll collect your regular Payment and invest on the day of the month indicated on your application form. Your first regular Payment will be collected following 14 calendar days required to set up your direct debit.

When we buy or sell Units on your behalf we'll only do so at the relevant Dealing Point, subject to clause 3.4 below.

If any payment into your Account has not cleared within 14 calendar days from the date of the original instruction, we reserve the right to cancel any units relating to that Payment unless it is due to an error on our part. If the first Payment into the account has not cleared within 14 calendar days, then we reserve the right to close the Account.

If your selected Payment day isn't a working day, we'll collect your Payment on the next working day.

A new direct debit instruction will be required if your regular Payment is to be collected more than 90 calendar days after the Application was accepted.

If you wish to cancel or change your direct debit we must receive your instruction through My Account at least 5 business days before your chosen collection date in order for the change to be effective by your next collection. We require 14 calendar days to update any changes to your collection bank details and failure to promptly notify us may result in a missed collection that month.

Subject to this clause 3.3, any increase to your direct debit will require you to re-read the KIID. Your chosen collection date will remain unchanged unless we're notified by you.

3.4 Investing your Payments

Execution only service – no advice provided

Your Account is provided on an "execution-only" basis, which means that you are responsible for taking all investment decisions in relation to the Funds held in your Account. We are not required to assess the suitability for you of the Funds that you choose, the Account, or any other services we provide to you in connection with your Account. We will not provide you with investment advice (or any other advice) or take any investment decisions on your behalf. To the extent that you need any advice, we recommend that you speak with an appropriately qualified and authorised adviser. You may only invest in Funds that are "qualifying investments" for the purposes of the Regulations.

Before we invest in any Units on your behalf, and before instructing us to switch into any new Fund, please read the current KIID of the Fund being invested in.

Making and changing your investments

Money collected through your Salary Deductions or Regular Payments may be held as cash within your Account for up to 2 business days before we buy your chosen Units. For example, if we receive your money on the 10th day of a given month, we may invest it by the 12th of the month.

When you instruct us to buy or sell Units in a Fund, we will pass on that instruction to the Fund Manager. Provided that we receive your instruction before 11:15 (for Funds valued at 12:00) or 14:15 (for Funds valued at 15:00) you will receive that day's price. If your instruction is received after these times, you will get the next available price. You can check what time your fund is valued in the Fund Fact Sheet (under the heading 'Dealing Information'). The Fund Manager will usually execute that instruction before the end of the same working day for instructions received before 11:15 and 14:15 respectively, or by the end of the following working day for instructions received later.

When you instruct us to switch your assets from one Fund to another, we will first need to instruct the Fund Manager to sell the required number of Units of the Fund you wish to switch out of, before the new Units can be purchased in accordance with the process described above. Please note that any fluctuations in market prices during the switch process may impact the price of your Units.

The settlement period varies by Fund but is usually between 2-4 working days. To confirm the length of the settlement period for the Fund that you are switching out of, please refer to the Fund Fact Sheet.

Once the sale of your Units has been settled, the proceeds of the sale will be used to purchase new Units in the Fund that you have asked to switch to. On receiving the proceeds of the sale of your Units, we will usually pass your instruction to the Fund Manager on the same working day. The Fund Manager will then purchase your new Units by the end of the next working day.

For example:

- You have asked to switch from a Fund with a 4 day settlement period on Monday. We will usually instruct the Fund Manager on the same day.
- The Fund Manager would then execute the sale by the end of the working day.

- We should receive the settlement proceeds 4 working days later, which would be Friday.
- We would then purchase the new Units on the next working day. This would be Monday of the week after you first gave us your switch instruction.
- You cannot initiate a new switch while another transaction is in the process of being settled, or within 11 days of a Direct Debit being collected.

3.5 Additional information for a Transfer In Any Transfers In will be made in cash, so this means that any existing investments will need to be sold before the value of your ISA is transferred. Please check with your current ISA provider for any charges you may incur from them in respect of the selling your existing investments.

The minimum amount you can Transfers In is £100.

If you are transferring from a flexible ISA then you may lose the ability to repay any amounts withdrawn after the transfer to us.

The proceeds will be invested in your existing fund choice.

We will require certain information from you and the previous ISA provider in order to complete the transfer. If we don't receive complete and accurate information, we won't be able to accept the transfer and we will return to the previous ISA provider any money that we have already received for the transfer provided they are willing to accept the monies back. We'll notify you if we need to do this.

If, after a Transfer In to us, some funds remain or additional payments are received by your previous provider's ISA, these can't be transferred to us at a later date.

Your investments will need to be sold so it can be transferred to your ISA. You will not benefit from any rise in the markets while the transfer is pending.

3.6 How your money and investments are protected

Client Money Accounts

All cash in your Account will be held in a Client Money Account in accordance with the FCA Rules. This includes all Payments pending investment and any disinvestments pending return to you. You are not entitled to any interest earned on amounts held in a Client Money Account unless we tell you otherwise.

We hold any money in a Client Money Account separately from our own money. Your money may be pooled with money belonging to other clients, which means that you will have a claim against the pool of money, rather than against a specific amount held in a specific account.

If we become insolvent, all the money held in a Client Money Account will be paid to relevant clients in accordance with their entitlements and the FCA Rules.

If there is a shortfall in the money held in the Client Money Account, you may suffer a shortfall in proportion to your share of the money held in the relevant Client Money Account. In these circumstances, you may be entitled to compensation from the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS). Please see Financial Services Compensation Scheme below.

If all or part of our business is transferred to a third party, you agree that we may transfer to the third party any client money we hold on your behalf that relates to the transfer. We agree that in these circumstances we'll transfer the money to a third party who is also bound by the FCA's client money rules, or we'll exercise all reasonable due skill, care and diligence in assessing whether the third party will otherwise apply adequate protection to that money. We'll undertake any transfer in accordance with the FCA Rules, and we'll notify you of the transfer.

All Client Money we receive from you is paid directly into a Client Money Account. We will exercise all due skill, care and diligence in the selection, appointment and periodic review of such entities. As long as we have done so, we will not be liable to you in the event of the default or insolvency of such entities.

If the bank where the money is held becomes insolvent, we may or will be treated as an unsecured creditor by the bank and, subject to the insolvency laws of the UK and any other relevant jurisdiction, we'll have a claim on behalf of our clients. If however the bank cannot repay all of its creditors, any shortfall may have to be shared pro rata between them. You may also be entitled as an individual to claim from the FSCS up to £85,000 in respect of the total cash held directly and indirectly within the failed bank.

All unclaimed monies will be held in a Client Money Account and no interest will be paid. We'll provide you with an annual statement that will show any cash balances that you hold in the Client Money Account.

If, for whatever reason, payments made to you over £25 remain unclaimed, we'll hold your money in a Client Money Account for a period of 6 years. During these 6 years we'll make reasonable efforts to contact you or your relevant beneficiary. After 6 years we'll make further efforts to contact you or your beneficiary to let you or them know that we no longer intend to hold the money in a Client Money Account and intend to pay this money to a registered charity unless you let us know what you would like us to do with this money. If we don't receive a response from you after these efforts, we'll write to you to confirm that as we did not receive a response from you we'll no longer treat your money as client money. However, should you wish to subsequently claim your money, we'll still pay what is due to you.

If you have £25 or less in aggregate of unclaimed payments with us, we'll also hold your money in a Client Money Account for 6 years, but we reserve the right to pay it to a registered charity after we have made at least one attempt to contact you to return the money and you've not responded after 28 calendar days. However, should you wish to subsequently claim your money after we've made the payment to charity, we'll still pay what is due to you. Any such payments will be made in accordance with our Charity Policy, which is available upon request.

Custody of your Units

The legal title (i.e. the document or record which indicates ownership) of the Units in your Account will be registered in the name of the Nominee. You'll be, and will remain, the beneficial owner of the Units in your Account at all times. This means that only you have the right to benefit from the Units. We are responsible for the acts and omissions of any Nominee that is a Legal & General Group Company to the same extent as our own acts and omissions.

Your Units will be held in a pooled investment account together with the investments of other clients. In practice, this means that the Nominee will generally be identified as the unit holder by the Fund Manager, but that our records will identify which clients the Nominee is holding those Units for. In the unlikely event of our failure, your claim will be for a share of the pooled investments, rather than against specific investments held in a specific account. If there is a shortfall in the investments held in an account you may suffer a shortfall in proportion to your share of the investments held in that account. In these circumstances, you may be entitled to compensation from the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS). Please see Financial Services Compensation Scheme below.

We may deposit your investments with a sub-custodian in accordance with the FCA Rules. Where we do so, we will exercise all due, skill care and diligence in the selection, appointment and periodic review of such sub-custodians. As long as we have done so, we will not be liable to you in the event of the default or insolvency of such sub-custodians, except in the case of any sub-custodian that is a Legal & General Group Company.

If at any time you have failed to pay us amounts that you owe, we may use any cash, or sell any Units, that we hold for you to reduce or pay off any such amounts. You authorise us to take the necessary actions in accordance with the FCA Rules. You agree that we may set off any obligations or monies that we owe to you against any obligations or monies that you owe to us, without further notice to you.

If we have held Units for you for at least 12 years during which time there has been no activity on your Account we may sell those Units and pay away the proceeds to charity, or else transfer those Units to charity. During this time we will make reasonable efforts to contact you in accordance with the FCA Rules and the Regulations and any applicable laws.

Financial Services Compensation Scheme

As you are classified as a retail client, you are protected by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme ("FSCS"). The FSCS is the UK's compensation fund for customers of authorised financial services firms. This means that if we were to become insolvent and were unable to return your Investments, the FSCS will cover financial losses up to a maximum of £85,000 for each investor. Any money you hold in other accounts with the bank or banks providing the Client Money Account would count towards this limit. Some banks and building societies operate under a number of trading names. The total FSCS compensation claim will include claims against all these trading names. For money held outside a Client Money Account, the FSCS covers most types of investment business for the first £50,000 of each customer's claim, so the maximum compensation is £50,000. For further information about compensation arrangement, please contact the FSCS at: The Financial Services Compensation Scheme, 10th Floor, Beaufort House, 15 Botolph Street, London EC3A 7QU.

3.7 Charges

There are charges for managing your Account and charges applied to the Units you hold. The types of charges applicable to your Legal & General ISA are described below. You authorise the deduction and retention of all charges, applicable taxes and reasonable expenses.

Service charge

This charge covers the cost of setting up and administering your Legal & General ISA. We work out the charge daily and collect it monthly from your Account. This charge is taken from any uninvested cash that's available or otherwise by selling Units you hold. We show the service charge as a percentage of the value of your Account over the year. The service charge applicable to your ISA is 0.25%. Charges are set out in the Application process. There are no share dealing charges, or performance fees that need to be considered.

Fund management charge (FMC)

The Fund Manager will charge you for the costs associated with investing money in your chosen Fund. Unlike the service charge, these fees are deducted from the value of your underlying Fund so you won't see a deduction for them in your annual statement. The FMCs are shown in the ongoing charges figure (OCF) associated with each Fund, which is shown in the Fund's KIID. In addition to the OCF, transaction costs may also impact Fund values. You can find a summary of OCFs and other expenses at 'Charges and fees explained'.

If we change our service charge in the future we will notify you by email at least 30 days before the new charge becomes applicable.

The OCF will vary from time to time and we will notify you by email if the Fund Manager publishes a higher OCF within 30 days of them notifying us.

We'll continue to take the service charge until you either withdraw the full value, transfer to another manager or, in the event that you die, until we've paid out the value of your Legal & General ISA to the beneficiaries. FMCs will apply for as long as a Fund is held in your Account.

Your statements will show you any charges applied to your Account.

3.8 Information on your Account

Statements

We provide a statement to you annually showing all the transactions in the Account since the last statement. This will include a valuation of the Account, including any cash and Units held. This statement will not include any performance information on any particular Fund. This is available in your online account. You will be emailed to advise that it's available. You still have the option of viewing your account online and requesting a statement whenever you need one.

Details of the exact statement dates are available on the statement or from us on request.

Investment Order Summaries

We'll provide you an Investment Order Summary or other confirmation after each Single Lump Sum Payment, Salary Deduction or withdrawal. It will show the dealing date, the amount and the value of the Units of the transaction and will be available in your online account, My Account.

Part 4

Making withdrawals, transfers and closing the Account

4.1 When we can close the Account or void your ISA

Closing your Account

In certain circumstances we may need to close your Account. If we do need to close your Account we'll notify you and let you know, giving you at least 30 calendar days' written notice of the closure, except if your Account remains below £350 over a 5 year period, in which case we reserve the right to close your Account without any prior notice, or where we are otherwise required to do so by any competent regulatory authority, the FCA Rules or the Regulations.

Circumstances in which we may need to close the Account include:

- if you materially or continually fail to meet the terms of these Conditions or, if applicable, the Regulations;
- if an extraordinary event occurs;
- you notify us that you have become a US Person, or if we discover that you are or have become a US Person;
- changes to any laws or regulations (which are applicable to the management of the Account) which mean that it is no longer feasible to continue to operate the Account;
- if we're in breach of any laws or regulations (which are applicable to the management of the Account) and this breach cannot be rectified;
- if we become aware of suspicious, unusual, or inappropriate activity on your Account.

Voiding your Legal & General ISA

We'll notify you if, by reason of any failure to satisfy the provisions of the Regulations your Legal & General ISA has or will become void. If your Legal & General ISA is identified as void (which means it is no longer exempt from tax) under the Regulations, your Units will be sold and the balance will be paid to you. We will notify HMRC as required and you hereby authorise us to do so, including to pass on any personal details as are required.

4.2 Making withdrawals and closing your Account

Full withdrawals

You can make a request from your account, to withdraw the full value of your account, at which point we will deduct any final fees owed at the date of the withdrawal. Instructions received online will not stop your future Salary Deductions being taken. Please log into My Account to pause payments. Your instruction will be processed unless we need to confirm or check the instruction. We'll place the withdrawal instructions with the Fund Manager prior to the Dealing Point before the next available Valuation Point.

If you are paying directly by direct debit, where you request a full withdrawal from your Account, we will also unless otherwise instructed, stop taking the Regular Payments.

Where you request a full withdrawal from your Account the Account will remain open for 6 years to allow you to access your documentation. You will need to actively instruct us to close your Account. If you withdraw all of the money from the Account and the Account is being closed, we'll ensure that any transaction already started will be completed.

Partial withdrawals

You can request a partial withdrawal from your account. When you do this we will pass a request to the Fund Manager at the earliest opportunity, usually prior to the Dealing Point before the next available Fund Valuation Point, and ask them to redeem sufficient units to fund your withdrawal. There may be circumstances in which the number of units sold does not meet the exact amount you have requested. You will be sent an investment order summary once the Fund Manager has confirmed the number and value of units being sold to meet your request.

We will send you your money once it is received back from the Fund Manager, this usually takes around a week from the date of your withdrawal request.

For all withdrawals

The sale proceeds of the withdrawal instruction will be received into a Client Money Account from the Fund Manager. You will be paid once we receive the monies from the Fund Manager, subject to a reasonable business period (not exceeding 30 calendar days). From that date it is money for payment and is held and protected in the Client Money Account, it cannot be used by us for any other purpose. The money will be retained in the Client Money Account until we're able to release the payment. No interest will be paid on the money held in a Client Money Account.

In exceptional circumstances the buying and selling of Units can be suspended in accordance with the FCA Rules. If you request a withdrawal when the relevant Fund is suspended, the sale of the Units and the withdrawal of the investment may be delayed by up to seven calendar days after the suspension ends.

4.3 Transferring your ISA to another ISA manager

You may, at any time, request to transfer all or part of your ISA to another ISA manager in accordance with the Regulations relating to transfers. Your chosen new ISA manager will contact us to arrange the transfer. We'll agree with the new ISA manager the timing of the transfer, subject to a reasonable business period (not exceeding 30 calendar days) required by us to implement the transfer. You can transfer all or some of the payments you have made in the same and previous tax years. We use a standard electronic messaging system, The Transfer Exchange (TEX). We are a member of TEX (operated by the Tax Incentivised Savings Association) which facilitates transfer requests between ISA managers. As a member, we are allowed to receive transfer requests from other ISA managers to transfer your Investment to them, even where we don't receive an original instruction signed by you. We act upon the other ISA manager's instruction and transfer your Investment accordingly. An ISA manager who is a TEX member is obliged to ensure it has the authority to act on an investor's behalf before making a transfer request. There is no requirement for you, the investor, to provide your existing ISA manager with any instruction to transfer to another ISA manager.

In exceptional circumstances the buying and selling of Units can be suspended in accordance with FCA Rules. If you request a transfer to another ISA manager when the relevant Fund is suspended, the sale of your Units and the transfer may be delayed by up to seven calendar days after the suspension ends.

We'll only transfer your ISA in cash to a new ISA manager. We'll sell enough Units from your ISA to meet the requested transfer value. When we have received all the information we reasonably require to finalise the transfer, the Units will be sold usually prior to the Dealing point before the next available Fund Valuation Point. If the transfer means that the remaining value of your ISA would be less than £350 we'll sell all of the Units and transfer the whole of the ISA value to your new ISA manager.

To facilitate the payment to your new ISA manager, on receipt of the proceeds of sale of your Units, from the Fund Manager, we'll place the money into a Client Money Account. From that date it is your money and is held and protected in the Client Money Account and it cannot be used by us for any other purpose. This money will be retained in the Client Money Account until we're able to release the payment to your new ISA manager. You will not be entitled to any interest earned on money held in the Client Money Account unless we tell you otherwise. Once the transfer has been completed, these Conditions will no longer apply to your ISA. During the time your ISA is in cash, you will not benefit from any rise in the markets while the transfer is pending.

Outstanding charges and credits due

For any ISA transfer, we'll deduct from the value transferring to the new ISA manager any outstanding charges, or any payments that are owed to HMRC in accordance with the Regulations. Any reclaimable tax credit that was due to be paid after the completion of an ISA transfer will be sent to you. This is because many other ISA managers don't accept small payments.

4.4 Procedure following death

If you die whilst holding a Legal & General ISA, we will continue to rely on these Conditions.

On notification of death, access to your Account will be frozen and your representatives should send us either the original or a certified copy of your death certificate. Once we have received an original copy of the grant of probate, your representatives will be able to sell or transfer your investments, but not buy investments. Your Legal & General ISA will end when either your executor closes it or the administration of your estate is complete.

Following your death your Legal & General ISA will automatically stop being exempt from tax upon the earlier of:

- the date of completion of the administration of your estate;
- the third anniversary of your death; and
- the date of withdrawal of all investments and cash from your Account.

If eligible, your spouse or civil partner may be able to claim the value of your ISA on your death as an additional permitted subscription in accordance with the Regulations.

Further information as to the eligibility requirements will be sent to the relevant beneficiary when we are notified of your death.

4.5 Payments made following a withdrawal, transfer or closure

This section applies when:

- you request an ISA cash withdrawal from your Account;
- you request an ISA cash transfer to another ISA manager;
- your Account is closed; or
- your Account is closed following death.

For your protection the withdrawal payments will be paid in Sterling from a Client Money Account to the Nominated Bank Account or your new ISA manager, as appropriate. Payment to the Nominated Bank Account or the new ISA manager, as appropriate, will mean that we're no longer liable in relation to the payment.

Individuals holding powers of attorney can either instruct payments to be made to the Nominated Bank Account held on record, or into a client money account they operate on your behalf, subject to them providing sufficient evidence that you are the beneficial owner of the account.

Where we haven't been provided with sufficient payment details, we'll make reasonable efforts to contact you or the personal representative, as appropriate, and confirm them before any payment is made. Whilst we're waiting for any such query to be resolved, the money will be held in a Client Money Account and no interest will be paid. We may delay payment of the withdrawal proceeds if we reasonably believe that we should delay payment for the Account Holder's or the personal representative's protection (such as to prevent fraud) or as required by law.

Where a withdrawal from the Account is made shortly after a Payment is made, the proceeds of the withdrawal will only be paid once we're assured of cleared funds in respect of that Payment. Banks and building societies may take up to 21 business days to fully honour any Payment.

In the case of Salary Deductions, payment of the withdrawal proceeds may be deferred in relation to the last Salary Deductions until we can be sure that all Salary Deductions have been successfully collected.

No interest will be earned between the date Units are sold and the date any payment clears into your Nominated Bank Account or is received by the new ISA manager or your personal representative, as appropriate. We reserve the right to deduct any outstanding fees, charges and expenses from the amount that is withdrawn.

If we're instructed to make a payment to a non-Sterling bank account, payment will be made in Sterling and we'll not pay any costs for currency conversion. We reserve a right to claim back from the Account Holder or your personal representative, as appropriate, any charges associated with a transfer into a non-Sterling bank account.

Where you close the Account by requesting a full withdrawal, you can ask for the residual funds to be paid to charity. If you ask us to do this, any further tax credit, or unclaimed payment below £25 will be donated to our nominated charity. We have a policy on charity payments.

We are required to record certain communications between us (including certain emails, telephone calls and other forms of electronic messages or communications) and will retain such recordings for five years or, where required to do so by the FCA, for up to 7 years. You may request a copy of such recordings. You agree that we may use any such recordings in any proceedings between us. You also agree that we may monitor and record other communications and calls.

5.4 Informing us of changes

It is your responsibility to communicate any changes in your circumstances to us. If you are paying by Salary Deduction your Employer will be unable to accept or share with us any requests to make changes to your Account, investments, or future Salary Deductions.

Where we believe that your residency is affected by any change in circumstances, we’ll email or call you to clarify your circumstances. You may no longer be able to contribute to an ISA. Where we have identified that your circumstances have changed, we may take reasonable steps to make enquiries to re-establish contact with you. It is your responsibility to keep us informed if the Nominated Bank Account details change. You can instruct us at any time to change the Nominated Bank Account. Subject to completing any necessary checks, we’ll make this change, although payments due to be paid to you within that period may still be sent to the previous Nominated Bank Account.

5.5 Verification of identity, fraud and credit checks

Verification of identity

To protect the Account Holder and us from financial crime, we may be required to verify the identity of new and sometimes existing customers. This may be achieved by using reference agencies to search sources of information relating to the Account Holder (an identity search). This will not affect the Account Holder's credit rating. If this fails, we will reject your application.

Fraud checks

The personal information collected from you will be shared with fraud prevention agencies to prevent fraud and money-laundering and to verify your identity. If fraud is detected, you could be refused certain services, finance, or employment. Further details of how your information will be used by us and these fraud prevention agencies, and your data protection rights, can be found on:

legalandgeneral.com/cifas.

Law enforcement agencies may access and use this information. Legal & General and other organisations may also use and access this information to prevent crime, including fraud and money laundering, for example, when checking details on applications for credit and credit related or other facilities, managing credit and credit related accounts or facilities; and recovering debt.

PMS and other organisations, including those inside and outside its group of companies, may access and use from other countries the information recorded by fraud prevention agencies in addition to accessing and using the information recorded by the UK's fraud prevention agencies. These organisations may be in countries outside the European Economic Area.

5.6 Processing personal data and providing information to others

The Legal & General group of companies will hold and process Account Data whether or not the Application proceeds. As regards to any Account Data, it is agreed that we shall be a Controller. We acknowledge and agree that, in respect of the Account Data, we will comply with our obligations under Data Protection Legislation. Any changes to our privacy notice will be posted on the site from time to time.

In exceptional circumstances, we may be required to inform you that, due to the specific circumstances, we are unable to ensure that a conflict of interest will not damage your interests. In such cases, we will inform you so that you are able to make a decision as to whether or not to proceed. In some cases we may decide that we are unable to continue to act.

This policy also applies to any company to whom we delegate any of our functions.

5.9 Liabilities

Except as otherwise provided in these Conditions, we'll be responsible to you for any loss, injury or damage suffered by you due to our negligence, default, or fraud; any material breach by us of these Conditions; or any failure, delay (that was within our control) or error by us, or the Nominee in carrying out your instructions.

We'll not be liable to you for indirect or unforeseeable losses such as loss of business, loss of goodwill, loss of opportunity or loss of profit. We'll also not be liable for our failure to comply with these Conditions because we're complying with our obligations under applicable laws or due to unforeseen circumstances beyond our reasonable control.

Investing carries risks and you may not get back the full amount of your investment. We will not be responsible if you suffer a loss because the value of your Account falls due to changes in the value of the Funds in which you have invested.

In the event that we do not receive your Single Lump Sum Payment or Regular Payment from your employer, any money allocated to your investment will be reversed, and we reserve the right to charge for all losses and expenses reasonably incurred as a direct or indirect consequence in relation to such an event.

You'll be responsible for any losses suffered by the Account Holder and us if you act fraudulently or if you allow another person to use your security details for the Account. You'll also be responsible for any reasonable losses suffered by the Account Holder and us as a result of your material breach of these Conditions or if you provide inaccurate or untrue information to us.

5.10 Extraordinary circumstances, adjustments and disruption

We'll perform our obligations set out in these Conditions unless a significant event beyond our reasonable control prevents or restricts our ability to do so.

These events are described in these Conditions as 'Extraordinary Events'. Such events include the following:

- strikes, lockouts or other industrial action;
- civil commotion, riot, invasion, terrorist attack or threat of terrorist attack, war (whether declared or not) or threat or preparation for war;
- fire, explosion, storm, flood, earthquake, subsidence, epidemic or other natural disaster;
- restrictions imposed by legislation, regulation or other governmental initiatives that aren't as a result of our misconduct;
- recession or significant economic collapse of a market, company or country;
- failure of external utilities (for example telecommunications networks or power) leading to unavoidable disruption;
- and the suspension, limitation or material disruption of trading on any of the underlying exchanges that the Funds invest in; the underlying exchanges on which the underlying index is based failing to open for trading or closing early; the announcement that the publication of the underlying index is to cease; the underlying index is replaced by another index; or the level of the underlying index is not calculated or published.

There may be other significant events outside our control that we're unable to anticipate.

If an Extraordinary Event occurs this may result in any payment due being disrupted, adjusted, reduced or delayed. If an Extraordinary Event occurs, we'll use due care and diligence when considering how to respond and will ensure that our response is fair and proportionate. We'll not be liable or responsible for any failure or delay in performing any of our obligations described in these Conditions as a result of an Extraordinary Event, but will use reasonable efforts to minimise any adverse impact on the Account Holder as far as reasonably possible and will tell you if the Account Holder is being disadvantaged as soon as we can.

If an Extraordinary Event restricts or prevents our ability to perform our obligations set out in these Conditions, we'll advise you as soon as we're reasonably able to do so and we'll let you know how we intend to deal with it. How quickly we're able to notify you may depend upon the severity of the event. If the event continues for a period in excess of 60 calendar days we may make reasonable changes to these Conditions to try and overcome the problem. This may include closing the Account. We'll notify you before this happens and what options are available.

5.11 Changing these Conditions

We reserve the right to make changes to these Conditions. However, we'll only make changes for valid reasons, which include the following:

- a. if our investment rights and powers are removed or restricted;
- b. to make these Conditions clearer or more favourable to you;
- c. to comply with applicable law, regulation, the judgment of any court, regulator, ombudsman or any regulatory guidance or codes;
- d. to reflect a change in our corporate structure that doesn't have an unfavourable impact on the Account but which does require us to make certain changes to these Conditions;
- e. if we need to respond to changes in tax rates, interest rates or the costs of providing the Account; or
- f. if we need to change any operational aspect of managing your Account.

We will always notify you if we change these Conditions. If we change these Conditions in a way which materially impacts your rights as an Account holder, we will notify you of such changes in advance. Otherwise, any other changes to the Conditions will be noted in the Manager's Report and you can always find a copy of the latest Conditions within your My Account.

Any changes we make must be permitted under the Regulations and under the FCA Rules. If you're unhappy with any such changes you can transfer the Account or close the Account. We won't charge you to transfer or close the Account.

Changing the terms of Funds

The Manager reserves the right to make changes to the terms of their Funds and the way they are operated as they see fit. Such changes include but are not limited to changes to the fees they charge. We will notify you of such changes in accordance with and to the extent required by the FCA Rules. Please refer to the relevant Prospectus for the latest Fund terms.

5.12 Transferring our duties

We may appoint agents to carry out our obligations in managing the Account as long as this is allowed by the Regulations and the FCA Rules.

We may appoint any person whether or not a Legal & General Group Company to advise on or perform any of our functions or responsibilities under these Conditions. We may provide information about you, the Account holder and the Account to any such person.

We'll not appoint an agent or any other person unless we're satisfied that they are competent to perform such tasks and our liability under these Conditions shall not be affected by our appointment of any agent.

We may transfer to any Legal & General Group Company all or any of our rights and obligations under these Conditions. However, we'll not do so unless we're satisfied that such company is competent to perform such tasks and will do so to a standard which is similar to the one that we have provided under these Conditions. We'll notify you in writing 30 calendar days before any such transfer.

5.13 Disputes

These Conditions represent the entire agreement between the parties in respect of the Account. These Conditions and any non-contractual matters arising out of or in connection with them are governed by and will be construed in accordance with English law. Both parties submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts to settle any dispute arising under or in connection with these Conditions. No third party will have a right to enforce these terms.
